Bringing the world to the classroom

At National Geographic Learning, we believe education is one of the great transformative forces of this century. Our goal is to help learners experience the world through authentic global content.

...and the classroom to life

We create English programs that are inspiring, real, and relevant. Through our partnerships with National Geographic and TED, students develop the language and skills they need to be successful global citizens and leaders.

CURRICULUM GUIDE

National Geographic Learning materials focus on improving language proficiency. Because there are beginning, intermediate, and advanced level language learners at all ages and in every grade, every series we publish has material for beginning, intermediate, and advanced level learners. The content connections and cognitive demands distinguish one series from another as noted below.

China Showcase Library

SERIES EDITORS: Zheng Wangquan, Rob Waring
developing to bridging | WIDA 3-5

China Showcase Library is a new and exciting collaboration between National Geographic Learning and People's Education Press.

A collection of 20 readers focused on China and covering high-interest topics in the areas of technology, art, literature, beliefs, and folk customs, the China Showcase Library readers contain exciting reading selections, beautiful and authentic photography, and a range of activities to support learning. These activities cultivate students' reading competence and promote higher order thinking skills by allowing students to engage with the text from various perspectives. Vocabulary support through on-the-page definitions and vocabulary lists are available. Audio is also provided for both the main and expansion readings.
